Pilgrims Trudge Path of Christ to Observe Good Friday in Holy Land

Old Ben to Sink New Mine in Franklin County

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (UP)—The Old Ben Coal Corp. will back its faith in the soft coal industry's future by sinking a new mine in southern Illinois.

Old Ben announced here today it will open its new mine about two miles northeast of Sesser in Franklin County. The twin-shaft mine will be the first new mine opened in Franklin County since 1949.

An Old Ben spokesman said limited work crews will start sinking the mine within 30 to 60 days. However, Old Ben expects it will be at least two years before the mine is ready to produce coal.

The most modern mining machinery available will be installed. The Old Ben statement said the company has faith that the future of the bituminous coal industry's opportunities for year around production are better now than ever before. It said the tremendous growth of the electric power generating industry will require vast increases in coal production within the next 10 years.

The company also expressed the belief that continued expansion of the steel and aluminum industries will contribute to the future of the bituminous coal industry.

Woman Refuses to Permit Visitors To Witness Good Friday Bleeding

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (AP)—Therese Neuman, a simple peasant woman who bleeds each Good Friday from wounds similar to those of Christ on the cross, refused to permit visitors to see her ordeal today.

It was the second time the 58-year-old daughter of a Bavarian tailor had turned back pilgrims who make the arduous trip to this tiny mountain village every Good Friday.

An estimated 6,000 visitors—including Germans and American servicemen and their families—waited outside the little house to see Miss Neumann's suffering. Some have been admitted in the past. But this year she refused to allow them to file through her room.

However, members of her family reported that Miss Neumann suffered today as she has for the last 30 years on nearly every Good Friday and on a number of other occasions during the year.

She is one of the most famous of the more than 300 persons throughout history who have borne the stigmata, which are wounds resembling those of Christ. They

Many Carry Wooden Crosses In Procession

JERUSALEM (AP)—Thousands of Christians from the East and West trudged in a solemn procession today along the route on which Christ carried his cross to Calvary.

The pilgrims, many carrying heavy wooden crosses, commemorated Good Friday by making their way through the narrow, rough-paved Via Dolorosa in the old city. They started out in the early-morning darkness at the first station, the Praetorium where Christ was sentenced by Pontius Pilate to be crucified.

At the ninth station, where Christ fell for the third time, the throng stopped while the Roman Catholic patriarch of Jerusalem, Msgr. Alberto Gori, celebrated a sunrise Mass.

The sun hid behind clouds after 24 hours of heavy showers and there was a light breeze.

The pilgrims, marked off in groups speaking common languages, knelt at each of the 14 Stations of the cross marked by tablets in the old city's gray wall. At the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, the pilgrims entered and mounted the stairs to Mt. Calvary for three hours of prayer starting at noon, marking Christ's agony on the cross.

The United Protestant Communities held a noon service in the Church of St. Andrews just south of Mt. Zion in the Israeli sector of the city, facing the gray walls of the old city.

appear on the hands, feet, side and forehead. Blood flows from the wounds.

Father Franz Naber, 84-year-old parish priest here, said that a few drops of blood appeared from a wound below Miss Neumann's heart during today's ordeal. It was in the same place as the spot where a centurion's lance pierced Christ's body.

The first person to bear the stigmata was St. Francis of Assisi in 1224. The wounds appeared in the same places where Christ was crowned with thorns, nailed to the cross and lanced in the side by a soldier's spear on Calvary.

The Roman Catholic Church considers the stigmata to be a "gratuitous gift of divine grace." It is extremely stringent in examining cases of stigmata before recognizing them officially as being of supernatural origin. There is no known case of the church officially recognizing the supernatural origin of stigmata during the lifetime of the person bearing them.

In the case of Miss Neumann, a deeply religious person whose wounds have been observed by many, the church has taken no stand. Vatican sources have said the church's attitude in her case is "benevolent." They said nothing objectionable has been found so far.

Miss Neumann and her family prefer to shun the publicity which is thrust upon them each year. It was apparently for this reason primarily that she refused to permit visitors this Good Friday, which is the 30th anniversary of the first appearance of her stigmata. She also refused to permit visitors in 1951, the 25th anniversary.

Eisenhowers Attend Good Friday Services

President Says Day Strengthens All To Live as Christians

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will attend Good Friday services today at the National Presbyterian Church.

He planned to be present for one portion this afternoon of the church's 3-hour observance.

Mrs. Eisenhower may accompany the President or attend earlier with her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, and her sister, Mrs. George Gordon Moore.

Mr. Eisenhower commented in a letter Thursday to his pastor, the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, that the observance of Good Friday will "surely strengthen Americans in their endeavors to live as Christian citizens."

She said that observance of the day will be "of significance to all throughout the world who strive to uphold the values of a civilization which the Christian heritage is of immeasurable value."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced that Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower also will attend Easter Services at National Presbyterian Church.

Hagerty said the Eisenhowers plan to spend the Easter weekend at the White House. He said he does not know whether they intend to put in an appearance at the annual easter egg roll on the White House lawn on Monday.

Hagerty said he also does not know whether the President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, his wife, and four children planned to visit the White House during the weekend.

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's Protestants thronged their churches today to observe the three-hour passion of Christ in services which vary little despite the difference in sect liturgies.

Worshippers, many of them enjoying a Good Friday holiday, heard again the story of Christ's agony on the cross, at the solemn, penitential prayer from noon until 3 p. m. Services were arranged so that the faithful could attend only briefly and still enter into the full spirit of worship.

Mrs. Stella 'Granny' Rister, 81, Dies; Eldorado Resident

Mrs. Stella A. Rister, 81, better known as "Granny Rister," died at 2 p. m. yesterday in the Ferrell hospital. Her home was at 737 Karns street in Eldorado. She had been in ill health for the past two months and had been hospitalized for the past three weeks.

She was the daughter of S. N. Hall and Sarah Frances Holland Hall, was born in Gallatin county and had lived there all of her life until 1941 when she moved to Eldorado.

She was a member of the Bethlehem church, better known as Adkins church for over 40 years. Surviving are three sons: Alfred of Norris City, Alvin of Junction and Frank of Harrisburg; one brother, Tierney Hall, Eldorado; 12 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Four children preceded her in death: Nellie Rister died in infancy, Mrs. Neva Graves in 1942, Thurman Rister, 1951, and Luther Rister, 1953.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at Bethlehem church in Gallatin county. Rev. Luther Howard of Mt. Erie, will officiate assisted by Rev. Don Rister, Omaha, and burial will be in Old Cottonwood cemetery.

The body was returned from the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado to the residence today at 4 p. m.

Stevenson Rally to Run Head-On Into Meeting of Illinois Kefauver Supporters

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—An Adlai E. Stevenson rally will run head-on into a "Scrap Stevenson" meeting here Monday.

Supporters of Sen. Estes Kefauver announced they will hold their meeting shortly before a Stevenson rally sponsored by the Regular Democratic organization gets underway.

Stevenson, who is opposed in Illinois April 10 primary, is scheduled to be the main speaker at the rally. Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley will also be on the platform.

Stevenson's opponents, meanwhile, will be trying to organize downstate pro-Kefauver support.

John R. Asher, the only state central committeeman who has come out for Kefauver, said he made a "grass roots" survey of 30 downstate county chairmen and then called the "Scrap Stevenson" meeting.

Oil Tanker Blast Brings Fears Of New Texas City Disaster

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP)—An explosion ripped open the side of an oil tanker docked at Baytown Thursday night, injuring only two crewmen but triggering short-lived fears among residents of this port city of a repetition of the 1947 Texas City disaster.

Baytown is only 25 miles from Texas City, where 512 persons were killed in a series of explosions aboard a French vessel, and property damage was estimated between $40 million and $70 million.

The Baytown explosion came as kerosene was being loaded into a 3,000-barrel compartment of the "ESSO Paterson," a 10,000-ton vessel operated by Humble Oil and Refining Co. and moored to a Humble dock.

Two seamen were blown into the water and two others hurt. One of those soaked but uninjured, Donald Ayres, 22, of Hillsville, Va., said, "I saw a flash and I was gone."

Early today the firm issued a statement saying, "We're back in business. The crew has returned to the ship."

"We have not determined the actual cause of the explosion," the statement went on. "We had just started loading kerosene and she went up and ruptured the side of the vessel."

The dock area is only a short distance from a 3,000-acre "tank farm" on which vast quantities of gasoline and other inflammable fuels are stored.

The blast was felt in Galveston, Tex., more than 30 miles away. A flash fire which burned more than an hour after the blast could be seen throughout Baytown, a city of 25,000 persons.

Police said about 100 patrolmen, some from other cities, were called out to direct traffic as hundreds of persons living near the waterfront left their homes.

D. E. Pickle To Retire as NYC Engineer

D. E. Pickle of Mt. Carmel will retire as NYC locomotive engineer, making his last trip March 31, completing 46 years and eight months of railroad service. He is well known here as engineer for the passenger train on the run between Danville and Harrisburg.

Mr. Pickle started his railroad career August 16, 1909, at Cairo, Ill., as a fireman. This road was later taken over and is now operated by the New York Central. Many changes have been made since Mr. Pickle started firing as his first job was firing a yard engine at Cairo, for 20c per hour. In 1910 he advanced to road work, firing a local run between Cairo and Harrisburg. The pay was $2.50 for twelve hours and overtime started after twelve hours on duty.

"In 1924 we got the first stoker fired engine and thought we were sitting on top of the world, and it was a big improvement over the old shovel fired engine and when the diesels came along and took the place of the old steam engines, it was the greatest of all improvements," Mr. Pickle states.

Mr. Pickle for several years has been running on the night passenger train known as the Egyptian, between Danville and Harrisburg.

He resides with his wife, Grace, at 1504 North Cherry, Mt. Carmel. Mr. and Mrs. Pickle plan to move to Florida at an indefinite date. They have one son who is serving as dental surgeon with the Air Corps. He and his wife, Dorothy, are located near Leas, France, and should be home in April, 1957.

Action Will Add $120 Million To Farm Income

Hope to Draft Compromise Bill By Next Friday

By United Press

Senate-House conferees hope to complete drafting a compromise farm aid bill by next Friday. Congress will return from its Easter recess three days later. The compromise bill will go first to the House.

The conference committee Thursday night struck another blow at the administration's farm program by adding a provision to the bill boosting dairy support prices.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), committee chairman, said the increase of 10 cents a hundred-weight would put an extra $120 million in dairy farmers' pockets during the next year. However, he conceded the provision would not prevent further accumulation of price-depressing government stockpiles of surplus butter and cheese.

Other congressional news: Trade: The Senate Investigating Subcommittee started its Easter recess without deciding what to do about the latest block to its efforts to get secret data on strategic East-West trade. Government officials offered to reveal some of the long-sought data if the subcommittee would keep its secret. But Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) refused to promise he would not make the information public.

Lobbying: Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) disclosed his special Senate Lobbying Committee has received a couple of leads from senators for possible investigations. He declined to elaborate.

Survey: The Senate passed an administration bill creating a continuing survey of sickness and death in the United States. The bill was sent to the House.

Needy: Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said the Senate Finance Committee has agreed to consider his proposal for more federal funds to the blind and disabled. He said the committee also will consider his proposal to boost federal payments for the aged.

Air Academy: Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) proposed conversion of the new Air Force Academy into a school for training government scientists. He said in testimony before the House Appropriations Subcommittee that within 20 years manned aircraft will be obsolete.

Death Takes McFarland Tanner; Funeral Sunday

McFarland Tanner, 64, better known to his friends as "Mac," died Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Harrisburg hospital. He resided on Harrisburg RFD 1.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Tanner, a veteran of World War I and employed by the Delta Coal Co.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at Indian Camp church where he was a member. Rev. Lloyd Fry and Rev. Arthur Trautveit will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Rites will be performed by the American Legion of Carrier Mills. He is survived by his wife, Sinda Holmes Tanner, whom he married in 1919; two daughters, Mrs. Verden (Louise) Chase, Carrier Mills, and Mrs. Clifford (Helen) Richey, Pittsburg RFD 2; two sisters, Mrs. Ben Willford, Marion, and Mrs. Dan Swan of Carrier Mills; a half sister, Mrs. Ray Currier, Stonefort RFD; a step sister, Mrs. Albert Hill, Pittsburg RFD 1; a step brother, Leyman Tanner, Pittsburg RFD 2, and three grandchildren.

The body was taken from the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills to the residence to lie in state.

Pallbearers will be Aubrey Holmes, Duval Motesinger, Ray Currier, Benny Holmes, Ralph Holmes and James Swan.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Harry Truman Talks About His Daughter And World Peace; Peace Could Come To Near East Through Electric Power And Irrigation; He Once Planned Great Power Projects For South America And Africa.

KANSAS CITY. — I dropped in to the office of Harry Truman the other day. He was busy clearing his desk of a big pile of correspondence.

"My wife says that if I'd keep my mouth shut I wouldn't get so much mail," he remarked, "and I guess she's right."

The ex-President was in wonderful spirits. We talked about a lot of things, from Margaret to his old critic, Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star, to the tense situation in the Near East and how war could be avoided.

Roy Roberts, we both agreed, seemed to be mellowing since he married the widow of Truman's former press secretary, Charlie Ross.

"He even gave Margaret a nice write-up this morning," said Mr. Truman. "I read it and wept a little. Of course, her mother and I think that anything Margaret does is all right."

"I can't claim much credit," he continued. "What really matters is a child's mother. And Margaret has a mother with about the finest character any girl could possibly have."

UNNECESSARY RACE TENSION The conversation turned to national problems. The ex-President was careful not to criticize his successor in the White House, but he had definite ideas on the way some things were drifting, among them race relations.

"We're going through a period similar to that before the Civil War," he said. "We didn't have to have a Civil War. But Buchanan, Polk, and Fillmore couldn't make up their minds on a firm policy. If Andrew Jackson had been in power he would have stopped nullification before it ever got started."

"My mother was unreconstructed," he said. "She never got over the Civil War. She told my brother before she came to see me in Washington:

"If Harry asks me to sleep in Abraham Lincoln's bed, I'll sleep on the floor."

"But a lot of people like her who still live in our part of Missouri know that they've got to give Negro children a chance. The Negro has got to have economic equality, and you can't get economic equality without equality of education."

"Lots of progress in that direction had been made in Arkansas, Kentucky, North Carolina—even Texas and Louisiana—until Strom Thurmond and his boys came along and whipped things up. All this bitterness didn't have to happen. It could have been prevented."

ARAB-ISRAEL SITUATION

Mr. Truman touched briefly on a great many subjects.

"Do you think war is inevitable in the Near East?"

"No, but there is one great danger—down here in the corner of the Mediterranean." Mr. Truman reached over to a giant globe alongside his desk.

"The Russians are after this 400,000,000 barrels of oil—70 per cent of all the oil in the world—down here in Arabia. That's why they've given arms to Egypt. That's the reason for the trouble in the Near East."

"But," he said, "we could have outmaneuvered the Russians with my development plan."

I had forgotten about his development plan and asked for details. The ex-President really became enthusiastic.

"First," he said, "I would siphon water from the Mediterranean into the Dead Sea—dig a ditch across. The Dead Sea is 1,200 feet lower than the Mediterranean, and the rush of that water dropping 1,200 feet would supply electric power for all the industries you needed."

"I would make Israel the industrial country of the Near East, then let the Arabs raise the crops to feed Israel and themselves. They're cousins. They don't have to fight. This could be one of the bread-baskets of the world."

ONETIME GARDEN OF EDEN

He pointed to the globe again. "Over here in Iran," he said, "was once the Garden of Eden—before Tamerlane came in and destroyed the irrigation system of the Tigris and the Euphrates. We could rebuild it. The people who have lived here since have followed the Kismet doctrine that things will take care of themselves. We're not that way. We can rebuild."

"I sent old man Bennett out to Ethiopia," Mr. Truman referred to the director of his Point 4 program. "And he made a survey which showed that up on this 12,000-foot plateau two crops of wheat could be grown a year—enough to feed 100,000,000 extra people—enough to cut out starvation."

"So with Israel supplying the industry and Ethiopia and Iran supplying the food, you bring a sound economy and cooperation and peace back to this part of the world. That's the way you prevent war."

"There are all sorts of opportunities in the world to build for peace," Mr. Truman continued a little wistfully, as if he regretted not having the chance to build them.

"I made some surveys when I was in the White House. Down here in Africa are the great Zambezi Falls—just waiting to be harnessed. That's the way to stop communism in Africa. Over here in the Andes is Lake Titicaca. Its power is wasted. I made an offer to Chile and Peru that if they would give Bolivia an outlet on the sea, we would harness the power of Lake Titicaca and use it to run all the mines of Peru and Chile. They wouldn't do it, but they will some day."

"Down here on the Parana river in South America are two falls that could supply power for this entire area."

"And here's another proposal I made, to internationalize the Danube—make a great seaway from

Legion, Stars Combine; Plan Practice Sunday

The Harrisburg Legion and Harrisburg Stars baseball clubs are combining for the 1956 baseball season. It is thought this will give fans in the area a much better brand of ball than in the past when the teams operated separately.

Weather permitting, the opening practice session of the season for Legion Stars players will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. Plans call for practice sessions the first three Sundays in April, a practice game Sunday, April 22 and the opening game of the regular schedule is slated for Sunday, April 29.

Gene Stone will manage the new team, with Karl Klondike assisting in off the field matters.

Open tryouts will be held for all positions on the club and any baseball player in this vicinity interested in playing with the team is invited to come out for the practice drills.

The club will need support from the community in getting equipped and any club, organization or business firm interested in purchasing uniform advertising or desiring to assist in any way should contact Manager Stone.

Practice sessions will be held on the new baseball diamond across the road from the fairgrounds.

The Baltic down to the Black Sea put it under the United Nations as a great stabilizer for peace. I would have done the same thing with the Suez Canal—and with the Panama Canal—put them under the United Nations. That's the way peace is built—showing people how they can work together."

Mr. Truman's voice had the enthusiasm, the vibrant quality of a man whose most important work was unfinished.

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Good Friday stands as a total loss in the progress of humankind. A man who was a lot better than anyone we ever knew was found guilty of upsetting the status quo. He made people feel guilty, so He was sentenced to death.

There was no cross on the hill on which to mete out the final punishment, so they made Him carry His own cross. No one had come to His defense at the trial, and only one lone man offered to lighten the weight of the tree trunk on the climb to the "place of the skull."

Even as this strangely perfect Man was dying on that rough cross of logs, He prayed "Forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Is Good Friday only a symbolic anniversary of a dark day in history? Is the reality so dim in our thinking that we pray only casually? Are we guiltless when it comes to indifference and hatred and lack of compassion?

Today is the day to put ourselves on trial and to walk alone to the hill of punishment. Today we must searchingly think it over. We can lessen the tragedy of Good Friday if we put religion into action.

The Census Bureau estimates the population of the United States was 166,700,000 at the start of since 1950.

Mrs. Ray Durham Installed As President Of Saline County Garden Club

Mrs. J. W. Myers was hostess to the Saline County Garden club on Tuesday afternoon, March 27. Serving with her were Mrs. J. P. Mitchler, Mrs. A. M. Hetherington, Mrs. James Estes and Mrs. C. L. Travis.

The business meeting was under the direction of the president, Mrs. S. M. Farrar.

Roll call was answered by 19 members telling of new things planned for their spring gardens. Mrs. Clarence Bosket was elected to membership. This being the last meeting of the club year, final reports were given by the secretary, treasurer, and chairman of standing committees. Mrs. Farrar reported that a ten dollar membership fee, allowed by the board, would be sent to the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Gardens in Springfield and that Saturday and Sunday, April 28 and 29, had been designated as "open house" at the gardens.

Plans were made for a Garden Club "walk" or tour of local gardens, for the first week in May and an invitation for reciprocal garden tours with the Eldorado club was received.

Mrs. R. D. Brown talked on "Put a Flowering Tree in Every Garden."

Mrs. Ed Gaskins installed the following officers who will begin the new year with the April meeting: President, Mrs. Ray Durham; vice president, Mrs. Michael Reshelter; secretary, Mrs. J. W. Myers; and treasurer, Mrs. Nelle Meyers.

Plans were announced for a spring flower show under the direction of Mrs. Joseph M. Hart. The newly elected president, Mrs. Durham, stated that the next meeting would begin with a covered dish luncheon at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 24, at her home in Galatia.

At the close of the meeting angel food cake and coffee were served by the hostess committee.

Delta Alpha Chapter Enjoys Easter Breakfast

The members of Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority enjoyed having an Easter breakfast at Schierle's cafe this morning.

Mrs. Don Raymer and Mrs. Harry Jones, the committee in charge, had beautifully decorated the tables with centerpieces of ionquils and Easter baskets filled with grass and multicolored eggs. Individual place cards contained miniature yellow and white baby chickens.

Present were Mrs. Bill Tom Rees, Mrs. Ronnie Ziegler, Mrs. John Slightom, Mrs. Morris Skaggs, Mrs. John Humm, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Garrett Crews, Mrs. Jewel D. Barter, Leota Leberman, Barbara Thompson, and a guest, Mrs. Harry Gene Moore.

Vienna Couple Weds At Home of Rev. John Henshaw in Eldorado

Paunita V. Steele of Vienna became the bride of Robert C. Burt, also of Vienna, in a single ring ceremony at the home of Rev. John Henshaw in Eldorado Thursday at 8:30 p. m.

Rev. Henshaw officiated at the service.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Thacker of Vienna, close friends of the bride and bridegroom.

Others present were Miss Norma Thacker, Mrs. John Henshaw and son, Jimmie.

After the ceremony refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

Post-War 'Baby' Boom Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau reported today that the post war "baby boom" is still going strong.

Census found that a survey in April, 1954, indicated that women of child bearing age—15 to 44 years old—had an average of 1.6 children, compared with 1.4 in 1950. This is an increase of about 12 per cent.

Census said gains in fertility among women occurred mainly in the age groups 20 to 24 and 25 to 29.

Children on Easter Egg Hunt Find Moonshine

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Children at the H. Rutherford Butler Negro Elementary school went on an Easter egg hunt Thursday but police wouldn't let them keep one of the finds—eight and a half gallons of moonshine whiskey.

Garden Heights Home Bureau Holds Meeting

The Garden Heights Home Bureau meeting held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Calvert Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Denny, chairman, conducted the business session during which the minor topic, "Users of Sour Cream," and the major topic "Drapes and Curtains," were given by Mrs. Willie Cummins and Mrs. Joseph Smith.

Recreation was conducted by Mrs. Smith after which refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Calvert.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Norman Vinson April 17 at her home.

O. T. Swinney of the Irvin Appliance Co., is leaving Tuesday to enter DePaul hospital, St. Louis, where he will undergo surgery. A son, Dr. W. J. Swinney, Benton, will be in attendance.

Mrs. Norman Benson has returned from Texas, where she has been visiting her daughters, and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Madrox Renfro, Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mallac, Bay Town.

Calendar Of Meetings

The Saline County Singing convention will meet at the General Baptist church on Sloan street at 2 p. m. Sunday. All singers and the public are invited.

Sachs May Have To Pay Reward To Opponent

CHICAGO (AP)—Morris B. Sachs, a businessman in politics, may have to pay a $1,000 "reward" to his rival for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Sachs' troubles started when he found out about a letter promising that Democrats who back him against Herbert C. Paschen in the April 10 primary will "be the first in being rewarded with patronage in 1957."

Sachs, who is running on a "good government" platform, charged that one letter was a fake. He suggested that it was circulated by Paschen backers and offered a $1,000 reward for the name of the sender.

Paschen promptly claimed the reward. He said the letter was sent out by Sachs' Springfield headquarters.

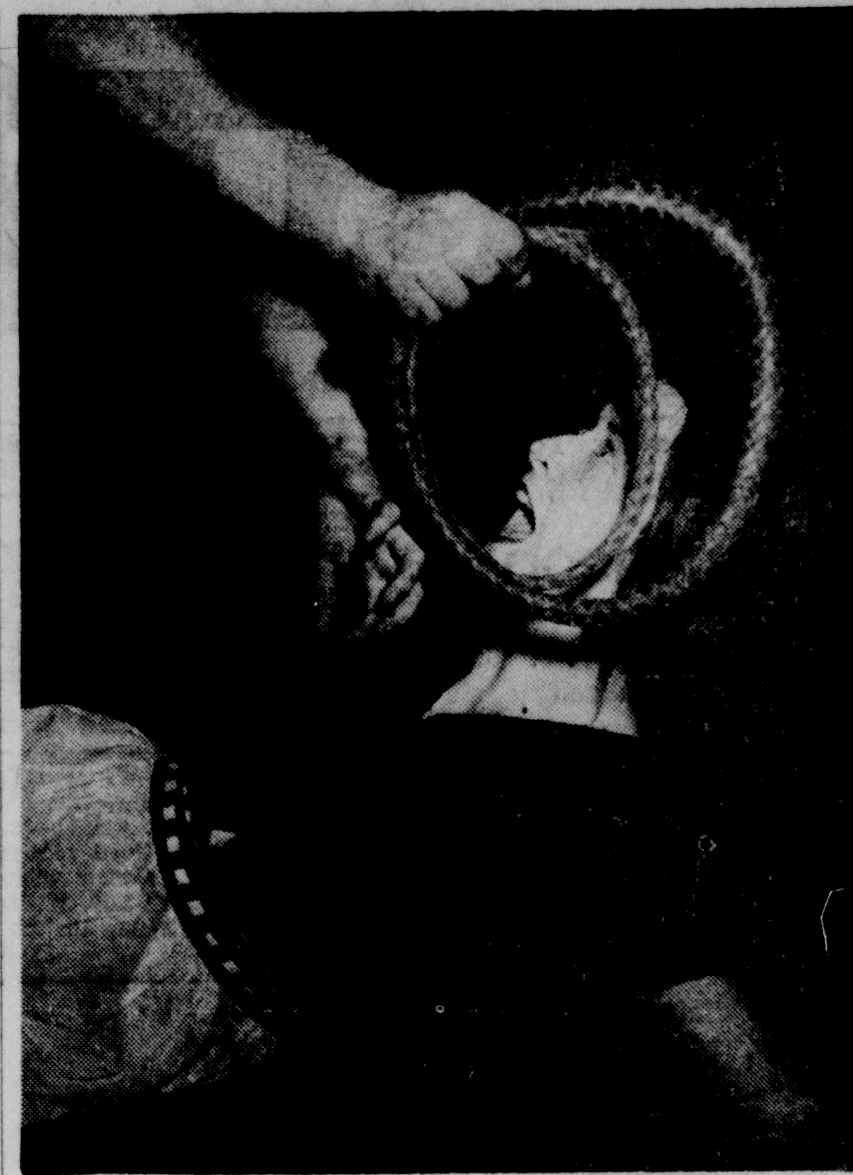

Sachs did some fast checking and sheepishly admitted that Paschen was right.

He admitted the letter had been mailed without his knowledge by his downstate manager, William Q. Lyons, and hastily added that he repudiates it.

Paschen will get the $1,000 "if he is entitled to it," Sachs said. He didn't specify how he would determine whether his foe deserved the reward.

Prince is Killed

ESTORIL, Portugal (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Prince Alfonso, son of Don Juan, pretender to the vacant Spanish throne, was killed Thursday night by the accidental explosion of a .22 pistol he was cleaning, a family spokesman said today.

FEELING THE STING of a bullwhip is Dorothy Hanning who portrays the part of the daughter, Emma, in the Harrisburg Township high school Senior play, "Papa Is All," which will be presented April 6 in the Bonnell gym. "Papa" uses a six-foot bullwhip to insure obedience from his pretty daughter and his son, Jake, (Dick Childress). He uses a more lethal weapon on the "surveyor fellow," his daughter's suitor. Eisenhower's Congressman Hits Plans for Women's Meeting on Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James M. Quigley (D-Pa.), "President Eisenhower's congressman," claims the administration is running a "letter-writing contest" to find out what American housewives want in their homes.

Quigley, whose district includes Mr. Eisenhower's Gettysburg farm, said in a statement Thursday the forthcoming women's congress on housing was "incredible and fantastic." He said it amounted to "huckstering" by the government.

Federal housing chief Albert M. Cole recently announced that about 100 housewives will be brought to Washington next month for a conference with federal officials on what they need and want in a home. The women's travel costs and other expenses would be paid for by the government.

Some of the conference delegates will be chosen on the basis of letters they write to the Federal Housing Administration outlining their ideas on housing. Others will be selected by Cole and housing and real estate associations.

Quigley also complained the conference would be run by "an unmarried woman"—Miss Annabelle Heath, an assistant housing administrator.

"I have no knowledge of her qualifications for the job she holds," the congressman said, "but it does appear to me that an unmarried lady, who is an apartment dweller in the city of Washington, is hardly the ideal one to dominate a meeting where the married women of America are going to determine what they want in a home."

The Pennsylvania Democrat said the conference would be held be-

Boy is Killed When Auto Slips Off Jack

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—The body of Thomas Marre, 17, was found Thursday pinned under the rear axle of a car in his family's garage.

Police said the car apparently slipped off a jack while the youth was repairing it.

Labine Comes to Rescue as Dodgers Beat Yankees; Cardinals Trip Phils, 13-7

By United Press
Memo to Apprentice Seaman Johnny Podres: The Brooklyn Dodgers wish you still were able to start for them but they figure things will be okay as long as Clem Labine is around.

It was Labine to the rescue again Thursday when the world champions evened their spring series with the New York Yankees at 2-2 by scoring a 10-inning, 5-4 victory. Clem closed it out with out allowing a hit in three innings — reminiscent of his work in the 1955 World Series when he appeared in four games, winning one, saving another and yielding only six hits in 9 1/3 frames.

The fast-moving St. Louis Cardinals made their spring record 13-7 Thursday when homers by Tom Alston and Don Blasingame helped them score an 8-6 victory over the Phillies.

The Chicago White Sox, top American league team in citrus competition with a 12-6 mark, walked 14 hits to rout the Washington Senators, 12-2.

Art Ceccarelli extended his string of scoreless innings to 14 with a two-hit, seven-inning performance as the Kansas City Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers, 2-0.

The Baltimore Orioles scored four runs in the 11th inning to down the Chicago Cubs, 9-5; the Cleveland Indians routed the New York Giants, 10-5, as Earl Averill and Chico Carrasquel homered for the winners and Willie Mays hit No. 8 for the losers; Johnny Logan's grand slam homer gave the Braves a 5-3 verdict over the Cincinnati Redlegs, and the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Boston Red Sox, 11-10, after hopping on $100,000 bonus rookie Frank Baumann for eight runs in two innings.

French motorists claim the first auto race in history was held over a 78-mile course, Rouen to Paris, on June 22, 1894.

Warriors, Lakers In Final Round Of Pro Playoffs

By United Press
For a time, it seemed that neither of them would make it, but regular season winners Philadelphia and Fort Wayne both were safely berthed today in the final round of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs.

Each clinched its best-of-five semifinal series, 3-2, Thursday night on its home court—Philadelphia by ousting defending playoff champion Syracuse, 109-104, and Fort Wayne by nipping St. Louis, 102-97.

The two finalists, who finished on top of the Eastern and Western divisions, respectively, during the regular season, will clash in the first game of the best-of-seven final round at Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon.

Whitey Rouviere Signs Pro Contract with Washington Redskins

WASHINGTON — Francis (Whitey) Rouviere of the University of Miami, Fla., has signed a 1956 contract with the Washington Redskins of the National Football league. Rouviere was the 'Skins' ninth draft choice, and probably will be used as a defensive half-back.

Sports Briefs

TAMPA, Fla. — The White Sox trimmed their roster by three players today, cutting the squad to 37.

Paul Stuffer, righthanded pitcher, was sent to the Memphis club outright. Third baseman Joe Kiriakos and righthander Russ Heman were optioned to Memphis.

The Sox planned to send six farm club-optioned pitchers to their farm club training camp in Hollywood, Fla., Saturday.

They were Bobby Cain, Phil Brown and Bobby Winkles of Memphis, Bob Hattenbach and Tom Richards of Colorado Springs, and Glen Rosenbaum of Waterloo.

INDIANAPOLIS — Former world champion Giuseppe Farina of Italy added international flavor today to entries in the Indianapolis 500-mile Speedway auto race.

Speedway President Tony Hulman said the veteran Farina has been entered to drive a new six-cylinder Ferrari-powered racer mounted in an American Kurtis Kraft roadster. The same car was entered in last year's "500" but was not competed in time to complete.

VERO BEACH, Fla. — The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers astonished the baseball world today by signing Bill Nishita, a Hawaiian-born pitcher of Japanese ancestry, to a contract with their highest farm team—the Montreal Royals.

The 25-year-old Nishita, a right-hander who never before has pitched in organized ball, will be jumping into the Triple-A International League.

Don Shroyer, Carmi, Named Millikin Grid, Baseball Coach

DECATUR, Ill. — James Millikin University announced Thursday that Don Shroyer, Carmi, Ill., High School coach for the last five years, will be the new Millikin football and baseball coach.

Shroyer was a halfback on the Millikin football team from 1946 through 1949, and was named to the All-Star team of the College Conference of Illinois in 1948, when he was Millikin captain.

His 1953 team had a perfect record of nine wins and was the only undefeated football team in Carmi high school history.

Shroyer replaces Jack Allen, who resigned recently to become coordinator of Decatur schools.

Second Look Puts Brooks First; Mob Scene May Force Neal to Farm

MIAMI, Fla. — (NEA) — You don't have to see any farther than second base to get the best line on the National League race.

The Dodgers have five players who would at once fasten a hammerlock on the second basing job with four other clubs in the circuit. They are, not necessarily in the order of importance, Junior Gilliam, Don Zimmer, Charley Neal, Jackie Robinson and Chico Fernandez.

The Braves, off last season's run generally considered the top contenders, are without a second baseman who hits much more than his weight. Indeed, Jack Dittmer weighs 55 more pounds than the .125 he batted in his few opportunities last trip. The Iowa alum is deeply dissatisfied and equally at home in the outfield.

WITH RANDY JACKSON's home run bat at third, the versatile Robinson, streamlined at 37, lighter than he has been in three or four springs, is freed for service elsewhere.

Robby isn't fighting everyone for a change, not even Walter Alston.

"The only thing I'm fighting," he says, "is Robinson's weight."

The surplus of superior infielders and the consequent competition is the Brooks' great insurance against the complacency that so frequently sets in with the winning of a world championship.

Baked spareribs is the most popular Christmas dish served in Norway.

Jackie Robinson Charley Neal

frankly looking to be traded. The best Danny O'Connell could bat was .225.

Neal easily could be the strongest of the Brooklyn candidates.

"All he has to do is learn to lay off the high pitch," say scouts and men who played with and against the 24-year-old Longview, Tex., Negro in the International League, where he stretched 153 hits into 258 bases and manufactured 16 home runs while batting .274.

The Braves' eyes popped when Neal swatted a Humberto Robinson fast ball far over the Miami Stadium left field wall and into the night and parking lot. You wouldn't suspect that a 5-foot-10-inch, 165-pound lad could belt a ball for such tremendous distance.

NEAL AND FERNANDEZ may be sent out again, unjust as that might be.

"We need them at Montreal," says Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi, who makes the heavier decisions having to do with player personnel across the bridges.

Schooled observers tell you that Shortstop Fernandez, a 6-foot, 165-pound, 24-year-old Havana Special, now gets his dukes on balls that such a celebrated performer as Pee Wee Reese would not reach. And such an accepted authority on Ivory in its native state as Branch Rickey always has contended that a young man capable of playing shortstop well should be perfectly at home on the other side of the bag.

Junior Gilliam Don Zimmer

Young Fernandez lacks Neal's tremendous blast, but drove in 62 runs spraying hits all over the place and batting .301 for Montreal.

ZIMMER HAD 15 HOME RUNS playing only part time last year and at last is listening to the coaches and choking his bat real good in search of directional hits that would put his speed on the bases offener.

The Cincinnati Dutchman, the most valuable player in every minor league in which he played, has been impeded by a frightening string of beatings, breaks and operations.

Benton Legislator Hits High Area Power Rates

BENTON, Ill. — State Rep. Bert Baker (D-Benton) today charged the power rates of Central Illinois Public Service Co. are higher than other private utility rates and higher than any private rates in four surrounding states.

Baker has been charging the high power rates charged by CIPS and Illinois Power Co. in southern Illinois are responsible for keeping industry out of the area.

He said CIPS charges $9.34 for the first 250 kilowatt hours in its southern Illinois territory while the state average is $7.22 for the first 250 kilowatt hours.

Baker said the highest private utility rate for this amount of power is $7.80 in Indiana; $8.20 in Ohio; $8.45 in Wisconsin; and $7.80 in Kentucky. He said the highest rate in Michigan, except for eight small cities served by the Upper Peninsula Power Co., is $7.74.

The average passenger car tire mileage has climbed from 5,000 miles in 1908 to 30,000 miles today.

Wilson Warns U.S. and Russia Near A-Power to Wipe Out Each Other

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has told Congress the United States and Russia are approaching a state of "atomic plenty"—a condition in which either could wipe out the other.

He warned that the "unlimited arms race to destruction" is leading to the point "where you have enough military power on both sides to practically wipe out the world."

Wilson made the statements at a recent closed hearing before a House Military Appropriations subcommittee. The subcommittee made the testimony public Thursday night.

Other military officials told the subcommittee the Russian war machine is continually getting stronger.

But Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said he believes the United States and Russia are moving into a situation of "mutual deterrence" in which neither side will dare attack the other.

"It looks like we have reached a point where only God has an answer to it," commented Rep.

Charles B. Deane (D-NC).

Russian Navy A Threat
"Yes," Quarles replied. "But I think somebody said that God helps those who help themselves."

The 1,224 pages of carefully-censored testimony contained these other highlights:

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, would like an army of 1½ million men, 50 per cent more than at present. He said he believes World War III, if it comes, will develop from "small wars" rather than from a sudden, all-out atomic attack.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, warned that Russia, already outstripping the United States in numbers of combat planes, is fast overtaking the lead in quality.

Adm.leigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said Russia has the world's second most powerful navy which poses a "far more serious threat" than that posed by the Axis powers in World War II.

Two Fugitives Captured by FBI

MEMPHIS — Notorious Nick (The Greek) Montos, only criminal ever to make the FBI's "10 Most Wanted" list twice, and escaped convict Robert Lloyd Jones, were surprised by FBI agents at a motel early today and taken without a shot being fired.

FBI agents poured tear gas into the sleeping fugitives and forced them to come out with their hands up despite the fact they had a small arsenal with them.

Their arrest came only six days after the FBI announced that Montos was considered a suspect in last Saturday's $89,000 bank robbery at Tampa, Fla., Montos' home town.

Montos, 38, an expert safe cracker and burglar, and Jones, 30, a convicted murderer, had been fugitives since they used a hacksaw to cut their way to freedom from Mississippi's Parchman State Prison on Jan. 10, 1955. That was the fifth escape for Montos.

Montos, described once by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as one of the most notorious burglars and safecrackers in the nation, had been serving a federal term concurrently with a state term at the time of their escape from Parchman.

Montos originally was put on the FBI's "10 Most Wanted" list Sept. 8, 1952. He was captured in Chicago on Aug. 23, 1954. After his escape last January, he was placed on the list again March 2.

Find Policeman Innocent of Murdering Teacher

CHICAGO (CP)—A jury Thursday night found policeman William Dawes, 47, innocent of charges of murdering a school teacher in a street brawl.

Dawes, a plain clothes detective under suspension from the force, was accused of murder in the June 24 shooting of school teacher Eugene Vesecky, 27. The policeman claimed the shooting was in self defense.

Vesecky said before he died that Dawes followed him in his car, bumping it against the back of the teacher's auto.

Vesecky said he finally got out of his car and broke the window of Dawes' car in anger. Dawes shot him in the stomach, he said. Dawes contended that he followed Vesecky because he thought he was drunk.

He said he fired in self defense when Vesecky advanced on him with an iron pipe in his hand.

Prison Terms For Three Youths

BELLEVIEW, Ill. — Circuit Judge Quentin Spivey Thursday imposed lengthy prison terms on three East St. Louis youths who pleaded guilty to criminal assault on a 16-year-old girl.

The incident occurred on Feb. 2, 1955, on the outskirts of East St. Louis.

Judge Spivey sentenced Robert Allen, 18, whom he described as the group's leader, to 50 years. The other two, Alvin Washington and Julius Walker, both 19, received 20 years each.

Eisenhower Signs Bill to Continue Excise, Corporation Taxes

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower Thursday signed into law a bill continuing for another year $3.2 billion in corporation and excise taxes.

Mr. Eisenhower requested the bill to avoid a sharp drop in revenue at a time when the administration is trying to balance the federal budget. The Treasury hopes to wind up the present fiscal year with a $209 million surplus.

Child Falls Out of Bed, Firemen Help Get Her Back In SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Two-year-old Brenda Kay Smet fell out of bed Thursday and it took two fire companies to get her back in.

She sleepily crawled underneath the bed and then raised her head. It became entangled in the springs and two fire rescue teams worked a half hour to get her loose.

Just a Corpse at Twilight

By Robert Martin

XXXVI

I gazed uneasily at Nellie Tweed. Her cheeks were flushed and her eyes held a hot shining light. She began to talk in a low dreary voice.

"It's all over now," she said. "and I'm glad. Alice deserved to die because she was taking Wilbur away from me—he was all I had left after Doyle was killed. I think I was rather clever. I knew there had been complaints about boys shooting in the woods near Alice's house, and so I made a target and took it there. I fired a few shots at it, collected the empty cases, so that they couldn't be traced to my rifle. Then I went down to the barn where I could see the kitchen window and I shot her. I'm a good shot, you know. I wanted to go inside and make certain that she was dead, but right then you arrived, Mr. Bennett. I heard your car on the drive and I waited. You came around the back of the house so suddenly that I was frightened—I was sure that you had seen me. But I hid behind the barn, watching, and when you didn't come looking for me right away I thought that you were pretending you hadn't seen me, so that you could trap me. When you went up on the back porch, I fired at you, and I knew that I had missed you. And I did another foolish thing; I forgot to pick up the empty cartridge cases. But I didn't dare go back—it was too risky."

I kept quiet.

"It was all your fault, Mr. Bennett," she said, still staring at the ceiling. "because last Friday you told Wilbur about the autopsy. When Wilbur told me, I knew he was frightened—and why. You see, he refused to let me help with Frank Osborn, and that was strange. I always helped him. So I spied on him. I saw what he did to Frank, and he burned it all in the incinerator. I guessed then that he had poisoned Frank, because I was there that night when Wilbur was making the drinks—and I had missed the cyanide Wilbur had bought to kill the rats around here. I was horrified, but I didn't blame him too much. He was terribly in debt, and if he married Alice her money would save him. That's all he wanted of Alice—her money. He didn't love her."

I said carefully, "Why did you try to kill me?"

"Because I was afraid of you. I was certain that you had seen me at Alice's house. When you brought Wilbur home in that disgraceful condition, you looked at me suspiciously. You suspected me—I saw it in your eyes—and I decided to try again. I saw you go across the square to the inn. I went to the attic, got Father's old deer rifle and some shells. My 22 was not heavy enough, and I wanted to make certain. After Wilbur was in bed I waited until you left the inn. I followed you long enough to be sure you were going back to Steel City. Then I circled by a side road to the highway intersection, where I knew you'd have to stop. But even with the moonlight I couldn't see you clearly, and I knew I'd missed again."

Nellie Tweed said, "You saw me out there, didn't you?"

I hated to tell her. "No, I didn't see you out there. I never connected you with any of this until tonight, not until a little while ago, when I saw the gray cat hair on your jeans."

She sighed, a sibilant sound in the quiet room. "Oh, the cat."

"You wore them again, two days after you shot Alice, on Sunday night, when you broke into the jail office and took your bullet from the sheriff's desk, the bullet that killed Alice?" I paused, watching her, and when she didn't speak or move, I added, "That cat has been in only two places—at Alice Osborn's house, and at the jail. Her hair will match the hair on your jeans."

I was glad that Sheriff Abner Cornwallis came in just then. If he hadn't, I would have clipped her behind the ear, just to stop the godawful screaming.

The sheriff applied alcohol to my lacerated wrist followed by a liberal smearing of a salve smelling strongly of tar. With surprising deftness he had wrapped the wrist with gauze and secured it with tape.

I still hadn't had any dinner, but the Scotch and water before me was comforting. I grinned at the sheriff and nodded at his glass. "I know about your nooners and sundowners, but what do you call that—your nightcapper?"

"No," he said seriously, "this is my bedtime."

"I see. And what do you call the one after breakfast?"

"That's my day-starter."

Lucy Dorn and Dr. Jerry Martingale appeared in the doorway. They were holding hands and Lucy's eyes held a happy light. Dr. Martingale said to Van Horn, "Chief, I'd like you to meet Miss Lucy Dorn."

Van Horn bowed heavily to his feet and made a slight bow.

The young doctor nodded at me. Lucy's eyes clouded as they met mine. Then she smiled. "We've met, Jerry. Mr. Bennett and I are old friends."

"Yes," I said. "Don't forget that book you promised me."

"I won't." Suddenly she stopped smiling, and she added gravely, "I—I want to thank you for—for everything."

I was puzzled for a moment, and then I realized that she was referring to Dr. Richard Jarrett, the man she had thought she loved. Maybe, in a way, I had freed her of that, and it gave me a small glow to think that perhaps my sojourn in Beech Tree had not resulted entirely in tragedy.

Taylorville High School Principal Offered New Contract

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Taylorville High School Principal Herschel V. Rowe said today he will accept a new contract offered by the Board of Education in a reversal of an earlier action.

Rowe reported earlier this week he had a verbal request from the board to resign because of an alleged "lack of efficiency in dealing with bad boys."

The board reversed itself and offered the new contract at a meeting Wednesday night. The board made no comment. The school officials reported receiving hundreds of messages in support of Rowe.

Elks' Easter Eve Dance, Dinner Saturday Night

Members of Harrisburg Elks lodge and their ladies are reminded of the Easter Eve dance at the lodge tomorrow night, in addition to the regular Saturday night dinner in the Elks Rathskeller.

Returned by popular request to provide music for the dancing, which will be upstairs in the lodge room, are the Blue Notes, a group which met with much favor at an engagement here last year.

For those interested in dinner only, the dance will in no way interfere with the dining. The entertainment committee stressed the fact that the dance will take place upstairs, so that Saturday night diners can enjoy their meals in the relative quiet of the Rathskeller. Dinner will be served at the regular hours of 6 to 10 a. m., and dancing will be from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

A big turnout is hoped for tomorrow night, which is the last function under the auspices of the retiring entertainment committee.

Coquilla nuts, seeds of the Pissava palm, one of the coconut group, a native of Brazil, are known as vegetable ivory.

Illinois Soldier Killed in Germany

HUDELBURG, Germany (AP) — The U. S. Army reported today that Pvt. J. Abernathy, O'Fallon,

Ill., was killed earlier this week when the car in which he was riding skidded and turned over on the highway near Schweinfurt.

Woman Flees with Michigan License Fee Funds; Blames Political Donations

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Thorpe, who fled from Michigan with $75,000 in license plate fees collected at the St. Clair branch office she managed, has mailed a letter from Edwardsville, Ill., to her son at Van Dyke, Secretary of State James Hare revealed today.

Hare said the woman's son, Frank, turned the letter over to Raymond McConnell of the Romeo State Police Post with the stipulation the contents would not be made public.

The woman disappeared March 2 with her husband, Floyd, and 9-year-old daughter, Kay.

Police said they boarded a plane bound for Mexico City along with Mrs. Thorpe's sister, her son and a Chicago bar owner.

Hare did reveal that Mrs. Thorpe told her son her action was necessary because she had been constantly asked to make political contributions and to buy tickets to political dinners.

"Mrs. Thorpe's feeble excuse for fleeing the state with a bag full of public funds appears to be either a plea for sympathy or the product of a mixed up mind," Hare said.

He said "no member of my department has ever demanded political contributions of a branch manager. I hope active Democrats who are branch managers will make contributions to the Democratic Party. But they certainly have never been compelled to do so."

Hare stressed that he has never received and would not accept any campaign contributions from branch managers.

Detroit Dairies Make Offer to End Milk Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's four major dairies offered today to start paying 59 cents a hundredweight more for milk in an attempt to end the milk strike by farmers which has cut off 75 per cent of the city's raw milk supply.

The offer to boost payments to $5 a hundredweight met the demands of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., which has represented the 12,600 dairy farmers which furnish milk to the Detroit area market.

But a rebel group within the association, which calls itself the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., has demanded $6.50 per hundredweight.

It was this group which set up picket lines this week which have choked off the Detroit milk supply. It termed the offer of $5 a hundredweight "just a bone tossed to the dog."

Hungary Quietly Releasing Political Prisoners

LONDON (AP) — Communist Hungary is quietly releasing a flood of political prisoners jailed by the Red regime at the height of Josef Stalin's "monstrous excesses," reports reaching London said today.

Release of the political prisoners coincided with Hungary's admission Thursday that the late Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and four of his cohorts were "innocently" executed on false charges of treason and Titoism in 1949.

There was immediate speculation that Czechoslovakia may follow by restoring the liquidated party chief Rudolf Slansky to good party standings. The charges against Slansky were much the same as those against Rajk.

Both were tried in big "show trials" along the lines of Moscow's purge trials of the 1930s. Nine of Slansky's closest followers died with him on the gallows of Prague's Pankrac Prison.

Young Woman Injured When Train Hits Auto

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — For the second day in a row De Kalb had an auto-train crash Thursday.

Mrs. Betty Ruth Isham, 23, was critically injured when her auto was struck by a Chicago and North Western freight train at a city crossing.

Wednesday, Elliott Root, 75, was killed when his car was hit by a North Western freight train at another crossing.

Representatives of the railroad, the city, and the Illinois Commerce Commission have been discussing plans to install automatic gates in De Kalb to replace the wig-wag signals currently protecting train crossings.

Mrs. Ada Fowler, Former Resident, Dies

Mrs. Ada Fowler, 75, former resident of Harrisburg, died at 5 a. m. today in St. Louis, Mo., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ersie Jarrell.

The body will arrive in Harrisburg Saturday night and will lie in state in the chapel of the Gibbons funeral home. Services will be held there Sunday at 3:30 and burial will be in Sunset Hill.

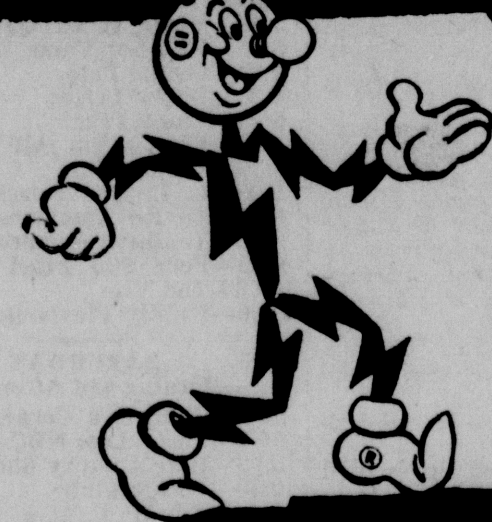

Early Bicycles

Bicycles were introduced into America from Europe in the early 1800s, being called velocipedes, hobby horses, and dandy carriages at the time.

TO THE VOTERS OF SALINE COUNTY

AS YOU WILL AGREE, the office of coroner has never been given much consideration by the public, yet the office is very important to each of you. In event you should need the services of the coroner you should be served by a competent, dependable man, one that will handle the case in a proper and lawful manner.

ELMER M. GIBBONS

has proved to be qualified in the duties of this office.

THE SHERIFFS, STATE'S ATTORNEYS, LAWYERS, DOCTORS, AND FUNERAL DIRECTORS, as well as the people he has served, will tell you that all cases have been conducted in a businesslike and efficient manner.

His Record Is Excellent In This Office

PRIOR TO THIS TIME the coroner has received a small fee for each case handled; however, recent legislation places the next coroner on a salary comparable to the other elective offices of the county... a salary sufficient that the coroner should devote his entire time to the duties of the office and not treat it as a sideline job.

Elmer Gibbons promises that he will, if re-nominated and elected, because he has no other job or business, devote his entire time to serving the people of Saline county in a sincere and efficient manner.

Your Support Deeply Appreciated!

SINCERELY,

ELMER M. GIBBONS
